

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A satellite position system with a plurality of satellites transmitting spread spectrum signals to a satellite position system receiver that is able to determine location using three spread spectrum signals and a polynomial surface fit to digital altitude data that approximates the altitude of the satellite position system receiver.